Duck Hunters Have Only Two Months Sport

By the United Press
Duck hunters of Los Angeles county will have to shoot early and accurately this year if they expect to get a satisfactory bag. With federal law superseding state law, the hunting season in California for ducks, geese, brant and mallards close January 15. Formerly the shotguns could bang away from October 1 to January 15.

The short season was sponsored by federal officials as a necessary conservation measure. To permit state game wardens to enforce federal provisions, they have been blanketed in as federal enforcement officers, the state fish and game commission announced recently.

Limit is 15 a Day
The opening of the season at noon instead of daylight was provided to give the waterfowl a "breath" inasmuch as many were killed in former seasons before they left their resting grounds. After the first day they know the hunting season is open and are not so easily surprised, it is claimed.

The bag limit for ducks, excepting wood ducks, is 15 a day, or a total in one's possession at any one time of not exceeding 30 birds. The state law permitting the killing of 25 birds a day is inoperative this year.

The limit on geese and brant, excepting Ross and cackling geese, is four per day or not exceeding eight in one's possession. There is no open season for Ross, wood ducks or cackling geese.

Further Restrictions
The law further provides that it is unlawful to shoot between sunset and one-half hour before sunrise. Shooting from a power or sailboat, automobile or airplane also is prohibited, and hunters are not permitted to shoot from a scull boat in districts eight or nine excepting Wednesdays and Sundays, or at any time in district 12 or on the Napa river south of Edgerly Island.

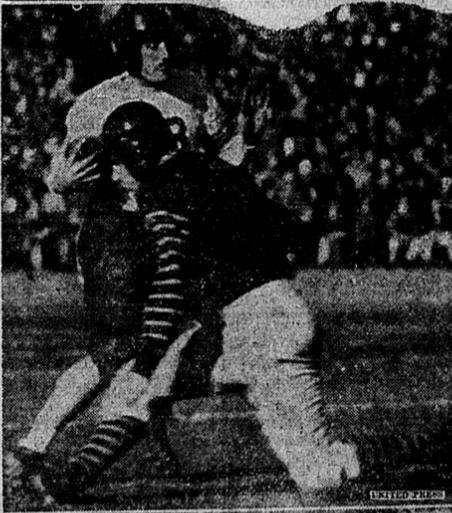

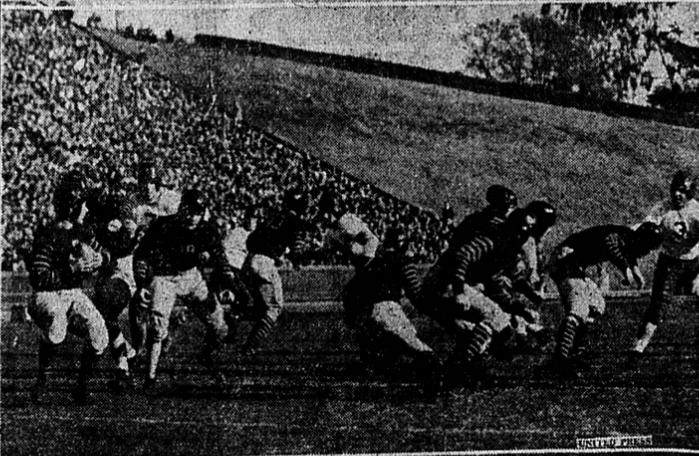

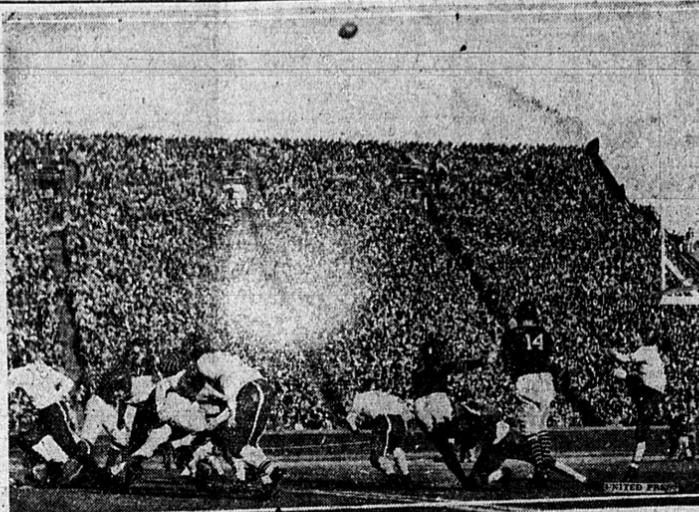

Other provisions prohibit the use of a shotgun larger than 10-gauge.

Basketball Captains Elected By Players

Norman Barck, guard on the heavyweight or varsity basketball team at Torrance High school, was elected captain of the team this week. Other captains chosen were: Arthur Yamamoto, diminutive center on the Class B or lightweight team; Cornelius Peet, forward on the Class C quintet, and Susumi Ichikawa, center on the Class D squad.

California Bears Trim Stanford, 6-0

Rintala of Stanford is pictured at the top kicking from behind his own goal line. California was pressing the Indians at this point of the game, causing "Pop" Warner's boys no small amount of worry.

In the middle picture the cameraman caught Behaldach of California about to leave a pass in the final period of the game. Ehrhart, No. 7, Stanford, is seen crashing through the California forward wall.

Say "Merry Christmas"
with a New Gas Range

The Lorain Oven Heat Regulator measures and controls oven temperature so that oven watching is unnecessary and results are uniform. Insulated oven means kitchen comfort. Surfaces of porcelain are as easy to clean as a china plate. And cooking costs as little as a fifth of a cent a person a meal. The range illustrated is a new Magic Chef.
